New Disclosures on Soviet Seen

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS]

Washington.—With a sweeping study of the Russian position by the senate foreign relations committee in prospect after the holidays, further disclosures are expected to be made shortly in support of the state department's charges of revolutionary soviet propaganda in the United States.

The contention in some quarters favoring recognition of the Russian government by the United States that the propaganda for a proletarian revolution in America emanates from the communist international and not from the soviet government is regarded as merely a quibble by the state department, which holds that it is impossible to draw a line of distinction between the two.

A resolution by Senator Borah, republican, Idaho, urging the president to extend recognition, to the soviet government, will provide the basis of the senate inquiry.

Sensors Borah and Norris charged yesterday that there was no proof of the alleged activities on the part of the Russian authorities, but Secretary Hughes is said to have collected evidence, with the aid of the department of justice, which he regards as establishing definitely the responsibility of Moscow for a movement to undermine the American government.

Muscle Shoals Instead of Nomination for Henry Ford, Result of New Stand

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

Copyright 1923, by Janesville Daily Gazette.

Washington.—Henry Ford will win that which he has yearned for far more than the presidency, namely, Muscle Shoals.

The inside story of the events leading up to Mr. Ford's latest announcement in favor of President Coolidge indicates that the automobile king at no time took seriously the efforts of his friends to get for him a political nomination, but that he took no steps to support a man whom he saw an advantage in exhibiting in congress the political strength he could command.

When one of the managers of the McAdoo boom in South Dakota remarked that he was "for McAdoo for president" and Ford for Muscle Shoals," he gave expression to something that has only lately been expressed on political Washington. For many months Ford has been felt for several months that he did not intend to run for president.

Many of the counterfeit and forged pay checks are said to have been cashed in Gary, Ind., South Chicago, and other points in the Calumet industrial district.

REPARATION COMMISSION DECIDES TO HONOR AMERICAN.

WELL EQUIPPED

Wide Financial Experience Held Sound Basis for Inquiry Duties.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS]

Paris.—The reparation commission this morning decided to offer to Charles G. Dawes of the United States, the presidency of the committee which is to examine German finances.

REFUSES COMMENT ON PROPOSED APPOINTMENT

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS]

Chicago.—Brigadier General Charles G. Dawes refused to comment early today when informed by The Associated Press at his home in Evanston, North Shore suburb, that he had been decided on by the reparations commission to head the committee to examine German finances.

"Thank you very much, but I have nothing to say," said General Dawes. General Dawes is regarded by his friends as well equipped for the proposed duties, both through his financial experience and zeal as a public servant.

He is the founder of and long has been head of one of Chicago's large banking institutions. In 1917-1918 he served in France, most of the time as chairman of the general purchasing board, which handled the supplies for the American army.

An American this will head the principal expert committee to be named for the investigation of Germany's resources and financial situation.

The reparations commission found it necessary to postpone issuing its invitations to the other delegates on the committee aside from the Americans, but in view of the need of a long time to permit the representatives from the United States to arrive without delay, the names of General Dawes and Owen D. Young of New York were approved and instructions given that formal invitations be sent them.

It was the unanimous decision of the reparations commission that the names of General Dawes and Owen D. Young be sent to the committee.

Funeral arrangements for Mrs. Burns have not been made.

BOARD MAJORITY VOTES TO CERTIFY EMERGENCY FUND

BLAINE AND LEVITAN IN APPROVAL OF AID FOR SCHOOLS.

$155,000 ALLOWED

Mandamus Action Expected to Test Legality of 2 to 1 Ballot.

BULLETIN.

Madison.—Secretary of State Fred Zimmerman declared today that he opposed the emergency funds voted by Governor Blaine and State Treasurer Levitan because there is a balance at the present time of over $3,000,000 for the operation of the state school funds. The university operation balance is $2,500,000 and the normal schools $850,000, he stated.

"By the statement of school officials, the educational institutions will not be required to close this year," Mr. Zimmerman said. "The funds voted by the governor and state treasurer are entirely under the items of capital and maintenance. Attorney General Ekern was requested immediately to draw up the certifications and when presented to Secretary of State Zimmerman, who voted against the funds, he will decline to certify the funds. WAR EXPLOSIVES AID TO FARMERS

Over 1,750,000 Pounds Sodolot Used by Wisconsin Farmers for Blasting.

Washington, D. C.—Figures have been made public here on the distribution of explosives for farm purposes during the past year. These explosives were surplus in the war department at the close of the war and their distribution was made possible through the efforts of Senator Irving Linn and former Representative A. P. Nelson, Superior.

The most interesting part of the report is on the distribution of sodolot. Sodolot is the name given to a new special mixture of TNT and sodium nitrate and contains 45 per cent of the former, 55 per cent of the latter. Sodolot is more sensitive than TNT, can be cheaply prepared and gives excellent results.

It was not until Aug. 20 of this year that sodolot was announced as a new material. Over 1,750,000 pounds of this material was ordered and paid for by the farmers of Wisconsin before any individual farmer had tried it. It was distributed in car lots at the rate of $5.95 per hundred pounds, delivered.

One hundred pounds of sodolot mixture has the equivalent strength of about 120 pounds of TNT per cent dynamite. Through the efforts of county agents principally 2,105,000 pounds of sodolot have been delivered to nearly 10,000 farmers in 68 out of the 71 counties of the state.

Saving for Farmers

Of this amount, 380,000 pounds went to southern Wisconsin counties and 1,725,000 into the northern region. The distribution of this amount of explosive material at the exceedingly low rate charges has resulted in large savings to farmers of Wisconsin, it is said.

Initial prices for dynamite in southern Wisconsin County average approximately 26 cents a pound. A low retail price for dynamite in northern counties is not less than 12 cents a pound, according to figures gathered by H. L. Russell, dean and director of the school of agriculture, University of Wisconsin.

If the farmers of Wisconsin had purchased an equivalent amount of standard explosives at prevailing prices instead of the surplus government material it would have cost them $325,000 more than was actually paid out, according to figures submitted to the U. S. department of agriculture by Dean Russell.

Figures also submitted by Dean Russell show a big saving in the spring campaign with pierce acid, during which 1,330,000 pounds of pierce acid was distributed at a cost of $10.95 per hundred. The long freight haul on this accounts for its high price as compared with sodolot.

About two million blasting caps were distributed free with the pierce acid and sodolot, representing a saving of $40,000 to farmers.

Altogether it is estimated that explosive materials distributed this year alone saved the farmers more than a half million dollars in purchase price as compared with ordinary commercial rates.

Government Aid

Wisconsin led all states in surplus for agricultural purposes of surplus war explosive, according to the division of agricultural engineering, U. S. department of agriculture. In pierce acid delivered between July 1, 1922, and June 30, 1923, Wisconsin took 2,614,000 pounds. Comings Assails Governor Blaine on Tax Measure

Sturgeon Bay—Lieut. Gov. George F. Comings took issue with Gov. Blaine regarding the effect of tax measures offered in the last legislature in an address here.

"Gov. Blaine has said his income tax bill would have yielded about $1,000,000 and would have reduced real and personal property taxes about $8,000,000," Mr. Comings said. "Why would the amount raised by his bill have reduced real and personal property taxes, while the Dail and Sovernson bills would not, as he seems to imply?"

"The governor represented his tax bill as a measure calculated to harmonize conflicting elements in the legislature. If so, when he knew that the progressive and stalwart forces were so evenly counterbalanced in the senate, why did he make an integral part of his bill the legislative out of office of tax commissioners and 20 income tax assessors?"

He also criticized Gov. Blaine for bringing up the prohibition issue in his special message to the legislature on taxation.

Modernists Win Initial Debate

New York—Religious modernists have won their first victory in the series of debates between Rev. Charles Francis Potter, pastor of West Side Unitarian church, and Dr. John Ross Stratton, pastor of Calvary Baptist church, and one of the most prominent leaders of the so-called fundamentalist or conservative element among Protestant denominations.

The Rev. Mr. Potter was awarded the judge's decision in the first debate Thursday night, when he upheld the negative side of the question, "Resolved, that the Bible is the infallible word of God."

His victory, however, was won on presentation of his arguments, for the judges did not base their decision on the merits of the question itself.

With 62,100. Of all pierce acid distributed by the government Wisconsin took 62 per cent.

With reference to the sodolot distribution this fall, Dean Russell said in his report to the department of agriculture, "up to Oct. 24 121 carloads of sodolot had been shipped by rail states, of which 112 cars had been delivered in Wisconsin. If lower costs of reclamation mean anything in making it possible for these stump land farmers to get the right kind of a start, it is obvious that the settlers in our outcrop districts are taking advantage of the opportunity which they now have to utilize these war stores that the government has on hand which it is anxious to get rid of but which in so many sections of the country are not being aggressively pushed."

Test of Insurance Legislation May Result from Hearing.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS]

Madison—What promises to be a suit of national interest is in prospect as a test of insurance legislation in more than a score of states, if W. Stanley Smith, state commissioner of insurance, finally declines to approve insurance policy forms submitted to him recently by the Continental Casualty company, according to state officials.

Commissioner Smith Wednesday concluded a five day hearing on the policy forms, and testimony submitted is being compiled. Attorneys from larger insurance firms attended the hearing and opposed the tentative disapproval by Commissioner Smith of policy forms.

Would Test Validity

Although Mr. Smith has not announced his final decision in the case, he has indicated that, to test the validity of the policy forms and the uniform policy act, he probably will disapprove the forms.

According to the legal authorities, no test case has been carried into the courts on the uniform insurance policy act in any of the more than 20 states having such a law. Commissioner Smith has taken a stand of strict construction of the act and if his decision is taken into the courts for adjudication it probably will be carried to the federal supreme court for final decision. Defendants involved are interstate corporations.

Interest in Case

Much interest is being manifested in the Wisconsin case, it is stated. Commissioner Smith has received communications from a number of other states regarding the ruling. Representatives from a national insurance association appeared in support of the insurance company's stand on the policy forms. The commissioner's jurisdiction was attacked.

The forms involved in the case are health and accident insurance policies. Commissioner Smith on Oct. 23 tentatively declined to approve 11 such forms as legal under the uniform policy act.

Altogether it is estimated that explosive materials distributed this year alone saved the farmers more than a half million dollars in purchase price as compared with ordinary commercial rates.

WOMAN IN ALMS HOUSE GIVES HER MITE TO CAUSE

The widow's mite may be a mere story to many. To P. H. Korst, chairman of the drive in Janesville for the relief of the underfed children of Germany, it is real. He has been collecting since Thursday afternoon, a woman came into the office of the Chamber of Commerce, campaign headquarters, and laid down a dollar, saying:

"An old woman who is an inmate at the county poor house, asked me to give this to you."

Seven hundred dollars were raised in Janesville, Thursday, Mr. Korst announces. Response has been good, he states. Workers are continuing on their districts Friday. They will complete their work before night. Janesville churches will take collections, Sunday.

ELKS' PARTY NETS $310 TO BUY TOYS FOR MANY CHILDREN

Three hundred and ten dollars toward paying the cost of providing toys for boys and girls and food and clothing for their parents was raised by the Janesville Elks at the first of their two "feather parties" in the lodge rooms, Thursday night. The Elks are giving Christmas presents to 400 children of the city who otherwise would be without.

Another party will be held Friday night at the club rooms to which women are invited. A stage will be conducted Saturday night.

The lodge ran out of toys for the children Thursday and had to buy more. Deliveries were being made to the homes Friday and Friday when they will be secreted until the mystic hour.

T. P. Burns Co. Store will be open for business tonight until 10 p. m. with efficient help and good service. Advertisement.

Two Civil Cases Heard by Grimm in Circuit Court

Herbert Jackson, Beloit, was granted a judgment of $204 on a note against Paul Cox, Beloit attorney, after a trial in the Rock county circuit court Friday. The judgment was for his full claim, against which Cox filed a counterclaim for $500 which was overruled.

The suit of the Rock County Telephone company against the Rock County Farmers Telephone company for $472.50, alleged due for switchboard and exchange service from July 1 to Nov. 1, 21, was set for trial Friday afternoon. The action was started in February, 1922.

The Farmers' company has a counterclaim for $3,000, a large part of which is for alleged fees for calls starting on the plaintiff's lines and completed on the Farmers' company lines. Richardson and Dunwiddie represent the plaintiff and Whitehead and Matheson, the defendant.

Attorneys have asked Judge Grimm to assist in effecting a settlement in the case of the McGowan Water, Light and Power company against District 4, Milton. The case is set for trial on Monday but the negotiations for settlement will be made Friday afternoon. This will mean that Judge Grimm will not hold court here Monday.

He will come to Janesville Dec. 27 to try the suits of the Carl Francis Co. vs. the Yellow Cab company of Madison and the Henderson divorce case, which is uncontested.

College Players Here Tonight

A popular play, "The Witching Hour," is to be presented at 8:15 Friday night at the Myers theater by the Beloit College Players. The play was presented in Beloit recently and was greeted with a large house.

CANTATA PRESENTED AT SCHOOL FOR BLIND

"His Star," a Christmas cantata, was presented by students of the Wisconsin school for the blind before an audience of about 150 persons on Thursday night.

With the exception of readings by Mrs. J. T. Hooper, the entire program was by a chorus of 46 voices, who sang six chorus selections. There were also three solos and one trio number. Miss Ruth Hoppe sang a soprano solo; John Horcoe, tenor; and Sophronia Peterson, contralto. The trio consisted of Ruth Hoppe, Osa Lamour and Sophronia Peterson.

Each musical number and the reading following it were in agreement, giving the entire program unity.

The cantata was preceded by an organ prelude, "Silent Night," with variations, by Miss Anna Means. About 60 people from this city attended, and others were members of the school staff and students.

Not Immune, However.
"I am sorry to inform you that your son James has been playing truant," said the teacher to the boy's mother. "I don't believe it," cried the impatient parent. "If he has, he didn't learn it at home, he never play cards!"—London Tit-Bits.

CITY IS CLOAKED IN DENSE FOG

One of Heaviest Mists Ever Seen Here Endangers Travel.

Southern Wisconsin is getting all kinds of queer weather these days. Weather that seems like many other parts of the world than the Badger state in December.

Thursday night it appeared that London town had sent over a portion of its habitual winter atmosphere. A fog that was thicker than the thickest ever seen here, cloaked the city and countryside in a density that made it difficult to see more than 50 to 75 yards.

Automobile drivers were forced almost to feel their way and speed was cut to the margin of greatest safety. It was the second night in succession that the valley was enshrouded in a smoke-like mist. Trains were delayed an average of 20 minutes, though part of that was due to heavy Christmas business.

The temperature remains at 41 degrees. More rain is expected and a cold snap may follow.

250 Members by Jan. 1 Is Aim of American Legion

A membership of 250 by the first of January out of a possible 550 eligible former service men in Janesville is what the Richard Ellis Janesville post of the American Legion anticipates. A report to this effect was mailed to state headquarters, Thursday, by John W. Gross, Jr., commander of the Janesville post. Membership for the last year was 165.

One hundred and fifty members have already been elected. Of these, 100 are new members and 50 are new members. The figures are based upon incomplete reports.

The drive will rest during the Christmas holidays, but will be resumed after the turn of the year. Terms have been set in the following: Mr. Gross, 18 renewals and 10 new members; J. G. McWilliams, 16 and 6; Dr. J. J. Woodworth, 14 and 4; George Dabrun, 10 and 5; Frank Gleason, 12 and 2; Otto Buch, 7 and 5; Robert Cunningham, 7 and 3; Ralph J. Kamps, 4 and 3; Harry Fox, 2 and 5; Leo Ford, 2 and 4.

All Janesville Urged to Attend Program in Park

A special invitation to all high school students to take part in carol singing at the community Christmas tree in the court house park Saturday night was extended in person by City Manager Henry Traxler Friday morning. Many signified their intention of attending. Singing will be held between 7 and 8 p. m. at the old fountain. The public will be welcome. The Christmas tree, under whose auspices the program will be held, Dr. Thomas Snodgrass, who will lead the singing, said Friday that he will have a program outlined Saturday morning. Old fashion carols will be sung.

LEGION PAYS HONOR TO LYLE ELLIS

The Richard Ellis post of the American Legion, Janesville, Thursday sent a floral offering to the home of the late Lyle Ellis, Morristown, N. J. Mr. Ellis, veteran of the World war and son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Ellis, 318 South Main street, died Thursday morning of tuberculosis contracted while mounting guard at a powder plant in New Jersey.

More Speeders—Police arrested four more speeding, Thursday night, and they will be arraigned in municipal court Monday, the day before Christmas.

Robe Stolen—Dr. E. A. Loomis reported to police the theft of a robe from his car parked downtown, Thursday night.

administration, claims the customs surplus of Kwangtung province should be turned over to him instead of being given to the northern regime.

Sun's recent threat to seize the customs at Canton caused the powers to send a number of gunboats to the capital.

APPEALS TO BRITISH LABOR FOR SUPPORT

Hong Kong—Dr. Sun Yat Sen, head of the Canton government, today telegraphed to Ramsay MacDonald, leader of the British labor party, asking him to "bring to the notice of the British people, and particularly the workers, the grave situation which the British representatives in China mainly have been instrumental in creating at Canton."

"My government is being threatened with acts of war by an international force of nearly a score of cruisers and gunboats, armed with soldiers, who have already landed at Shamen (the foreign section of Canton, where the administration offices of other nations are located.)

"This is the work of the diplomatic body at Peking, done at the instance of the British minister on advice of the senior consul at Canton, who is the British consul general, and the inspector general of Chinese maritime customs and who is a British national."

SAILSTAD, WITH GIRL, READY TO "TAKE MEDICINE"

Dail was fixed at $2,500 for each on the part of Mr. Kennedy. Mr. Sallstad said he would not furnish bail and the two were returned to the county jail.

Tears were in Miss Anderson's eyes as she turned to leave the room. She winced as a flashlight picture was taken during the arraignment, and clung to Sallstad's arm as they left the court.

Sallstad declared that after he had completed his sentence he would pay back every cent of the damage he caused by the Lake Nebagamon cottage fire.

With Start Anew.

He stated that he would ask an appraisal of the buildings by the owners and that he would begin life anew with the items on the debit side of the ledger.

"I intend to pay the debt for those cottages and to marry Dorothy. Then I hope mother will come to live with us."

Sallstad will remain in Superior a few days after sentence is passed in order to accept service in the divorce action to be filed in Eau Claire county against him by Mrs. Leona Sallstad-Richardson, his wife. Cadigan and Cadigan, Superior law firm, is acting as attorney for Mrs. Sallstad in the case.

When Christmas Is Christmas

It looks now as though the children of Janesville, and for that matter of every town and countryside in Southern Wisconsin were to have a real Christmas. Here in Janesville a dozen agencies are at work to see that this is done. For three years the Gazette has sponsored a "Santa Claus for every child" plan and it has been carried out to the letter. This year the number of names has been larger than ever owing to the care in collecting them and the cooperation of all agencies. The B. P. O. E. or as we know the organization better, the Elks of Janesville are going into the Santa Claus business in wholesale and are cooperating with all welfare and helpful organizations in the city to make this the biggest Christmas ever known. The lodge has the best plan for this purpose ever put at work in the city.

The Gazette is pleased to cooperate with the Elks in this big undertaking. A letter to the Gazette from a former resident of the city, came to the editor of the Gazette with an enclosure of a ten dollar bill. It said "I cannot be there but each year I have acted as a 'Santa Claus' and you will please see that this takes care of some of the little folks."

That is the spirit which we will find in a great degree everywhere. The children of the Good Times clubs in rural districts are helping also to see that no boy or girl in any school community is overlooked by St. Nicholas.

This looks as though it would be a Christmas as is a Christmas.

Apparently the churches have a lot of doctrinal things to settle before they can start in saving souls again.

Mr. Hughes Disturbs the Peace.

Secretary Charles Evans Hughes has disturbed the plans of those who have made it a sort of regular business to see that Russia with its soviet government is diplomatically recognized. In the revelations which Mr. Hughes has made concerning the activities of the Russian reds in America, he has repeated the evidence presented in the syndicalist cases during the trial of one, Ruthenberg, who was convicted at St. Joseph, Mo., the revelations of the miners' union a few months ago in reference to action of the same group who aimed at destruction of the miners' union and along the lines of the statements made by Samuel Gompers from time to time in his addresses and warnings about friendship politically with Russia. The evidence collected and related by the secretary of state seems to be good and sufficient for not recognizing Russia or opening negotiations with soviet representatives until action here to bring about the proletarian world revolution has ceased.

Senators Norris, a leader of the insurgent senators, and Senator Borah plunge at once into denial. Tchitcherlin, from Moscow, says according to a cable dispatch, that "the soviet never gave and never will give any support to revolutionary parties in America." It will be noted that the foreign minister is careful to mention the word "soviet." That may be possibly true at that and it is apparently a denial of what Mr. Hughes has said, but in reality it is not the whole truth. In order to prove it we shall cite Mr. LaFollette and other authorities.

In his published statement about Russia on Sunday last as printed in the Hearst newspapers where it naturally would be, Mr. LaFollette, as already quoted in the Gazette, said:

"I told Russian officials that I believe in democracy, but I would not attempt to force a democracy on any nation, except by the light of example, and that they would be better regarded by the other nations of the earth if they would cease their schemes of world revolution and seek to perfect their own government."

One would say that this was a conclusive answer to both Mr. Tchitcherlin and his spokesmen and supporters in America, Messrs. Borah and Norris. Anyhow Mr. LaFollette must have been cognizant that the Russians were attempting to foil "schemes of world revolution" or he would scarcely have spent the time in warning them against it. Rose Pastor Stokes, once a friend and co-worker with Emma Goldman and who has herself been often in trouble over her anarchistic speeches, writes indignantly to the New York Times of Monday that the soviet does not direct the Internationale but the Internationale made up of world delegates, is rather the master of the soviet. It is well to pursue this a little farther. In so doing we return to Senator LaFollette.

"There are 150,000,000 people in Russia, of whom between 50 and 90 million are peasants. Elections are completely controlled by the communist party numbering less than 400,000. A well trained army is behind the communist party under the command of Trotsky. The soviet government has adopted the czar's policy of exile as punishment for political offenses or even the suspension of opposition to the soviet government. If I were a citizen of Russia I would resist the communist dictatorship."**

An established fact is that the government of Russia is known as the "soviet," the party which puts a soviet in power is that of the communists. There are many branches of activity in the communist party which are not a part of the soviet government—quasi-governmental only, because the same forces which make the soviet also make the committees for the propaganda of the Marxian theory of dictation of the proletariat.

New Way To Teach Arithmetic

By FREDERIC J. HASKIN.

Washington.—Making arithmetic interesting is the basic idea of a new method of teaching the science of numbers that is now being tried out in some 30 schools in various parts of the country. The Lincoln School of Teachers College is behind the undertaking and is issuing text books that are revised annually in the light of the experience of teachers and pupils that are using them.

Progress made by classes using the old method and the new is watched carefully and the comparison is said to be altogether in favor of the new. Indeed, in some instances the children have become so interested in arithmetic that it has been difficult to get them to devote a proper amount of their time and attention to their other studies.

For years educators have realized that some changes had to be made in textbooks and teaching methods. A survey conducted by the National Committee on Mathematical Requirements revealed a lamentable state of affairs with respect to the mathematical proficiency of boys and girls of the age that should find them in the seventh grade of the grammar schools. A large number of children in 30 different cities were examined. The test included 125 problems or mathematical points that should have been mastered by all of them, but only 8 questions of the 125 were answered correctly by 99 per cent of the children, and only 59 were answered correctly by 50 per cent. That is regarded as a shockingly low average.

One of the problems was to "write one-fifth as a decimal," and more than half the children failed on that. Barely a third of them could give the average of 4, 6, 8, and 10, and other equally simple tests bowled the children over like bowling pins.

"There are those who say that our American schools foster half-learning," says Director Otis W. Caldwell, of the Lincoln schools. "They exaggerate. They are too generous in their achievement, for here is evidence that we achieve much less than 50 percent mastery."

The aim of those who would reform arithmetic is to get away from mistic abstract and abstruse as much as possible and to give the children problems that are concretely applicable to everyday life and experience.

A boy may hate percentages like poison and it may be an utterly hopeless task to attempt to drill him in arithmetical problems but ask him to tell you Babe Ruth's batting average or the league standing of his favorite baseball team and he will sit up and take notice. Before he realizes it he has learned the fundamental principles of the calculation and is keenly interested in applying them in numerous ways that mean something concrete and practical to him.

The first page of the new textbook for the seventh grade shows a picture of a boy with a ruler and a bolt, and the problem stated is that the boy has been told to order a bolt for his father's automobile. These bolts are made in three lengths, it is stated, and the sizes are described. The pupil thus starts on his work in what fractions and exactness are, how to measure the new method by learning how to use a ruler, a bolt and how to buy one if he has to. And before he gets many pages into the book he is learning how to make a graph. It looks just like the dual charts on the financial pages of the newspaper, but this is the lad's own and shows him by a rising line the improvement he is making in addition.

"We put more stress on drawing the pupil out," says John R. Clark, who wrote this textbook in collaboration with Raleigh Schoelling, of the University High School of the University of Michigan. "He must acquire methods of work. We had rather teach 50 pages and let the pupil find things out for himself than teach a hundred pages and tell him everything."

Some time ago the newspapers carried a story to the effect that Chicago's Popow long, long ago had deposited $100 in a bank and had forgotten all about it for 62 years. That suggested immediately to the progressive arithmeticians a problem that would appeal to the children: How much did the bank have to pay Mr. Popow if his $100 drew 4 per cent interest, compounded annually? Several variations of the problem are possible.

Then there was the story of a man who borrowed a book from a library and never returned it. The book cost $4.50 and after the lapse of 20 years the man sent $12 to the library. What rate of interest was the man paying on the cost of the book which he appropriated? How much should he have paid if the interest had been compounded annually?

A government aviator establishes a speed record of 266 miles an hour. How long would it take him to fly from New York to San Francisco at that speed? How long to encircle the globe?

A boy Scout is supposed to do one good deed every day. What is his average of excellence at the end of a year if he fails to do the good one day in every week?

A boy wants a homemade radio receiving set. How much money will he have in order to be able to gratify his desire? There are a dozen angles to this problem and it has been found an easy matter to keep a roomful of boys—and girls, too—keenly interested in working them all out.

The reading of a gas meter is made a basis for study and the children are given a more meaningful understanding of common business practices—such things as loans and insurance and contracts—and finally they must be made to understand the significance of mathematics in life.

In this way arithmetic becomes identified with and of great assistance in other studies. One leads to another. In the seventh grade fine arts class, geometry is introduced to aid the children in their work of designing baskets and bowls. In hygiene they are given tables showing their actual weights and the normal weights for their ages, and with what they have learned in arithmetic they make graphs showing the progress they make.

One problem that features this new textbook is nothing short of a dramatization of mathematics. It is the story of a family that undertakes building a house and takes the pupils through every step of that decidedly practical experience. The lot must be purchased, a loan negotiated from the building and loan association, plans must be worked out, contracts made with builders, the required amount of excavation must be determined, materials purchased, labor costs calculated, and what not.

lat and the Third Internationale. M. Tchitcherlin quibbles, and he is echoed by the two senators who up to this time have spoken against the ultimatum by Secretary Hughes backed by definite statements and documentary proof of that Communist activity in the United States and the secretary owes some degree of thanks to the senior senator of Wisconsin for his aid in substantiating the statements.

JUST FOLKS

By EDGAR A. GUEST.

THE CHRISTMAS BOOTLEGGER.

I am a smuggler, a pirate perhaps, or a bootlegger. I work in the dark in the slyest of ways, when there's never an eye to behold. I sneak with my treasures through alleys, that none may see me at night when I come, For I'm a bootlegger, this time of the year—bootlegging a little boy's drum.

Yes, I'm a bootlegger. My pockets are deep and I carry the strangest of wares. And I hide what I get in the darkest of nooks—I've my plunder stored under the stairs, And down in the cellar I've hidden away full many a package of cheer.

For I'm bootlegging engines and footballs and skates and wagons this time of the year. I must hide from the light, for bright eyes are alert to detect any strangeness in me, And I know I'm suspected by one little boy who is sharp as a small boy can be; For the joy of the Christmas is bootlegging toys and hiding them under the bed.

So watch me tonight, I journey towards home, bootlegging a little boy's sled.

SPUR OF THE MOMENT

By ROY K. MOULTON.

SOME PEOPLE STILL BELIEVE THAT—Every actress in New York bats around nights after the show.

All the Frenchmen do is chase around with chorus girls in Paris.

People get drunk as soon as they board Atlantic liners, and stay that way.

If a cigar is marked "Havana" the tobacco was grown in Cuba.

The only way to get stage press-stuff is by way of a scandal.

Every motion picture actor lives in a million-dollar villa.

The newspapers are always glad to get stuff to "help" all up.

A "beautiful society bride" must necessarily be beautiful.

An artist's model always sits around restaurants without any clothes on.

No wife ever made a shirt for her husband that he could wear.

Every man who wears bone-rimmed glasses wants to look "ill'ry."

In Paris they have passed an ordinance requiring every public conveyance to get up and give their seats to women. Over here no such ordinance is needed. The women attend to the matter themselves.

If M. Polneare is looking for another war, the chances are that he will find somebody willing to oblige.

WHO'S WHO TODAY

FRED W. UPHAM.

As treasurer of the National Republican Committee Fred W. Upham holds the purse strings of the G. O. P. body for the coming national nominating convention.

Upham has served as treasurer since February, 1918. He has been interested in Republican politics, however, for over thirty years.

He served as delegate to G. O. P. conventions from Wisconsin as far back as 1892 and has served in a similar capacity at three conventions of 1908, 12 and 16. He also served as western treasurer for those conventions.

He was elected an aide-man in Chicago in 1898 but soon resigned that post and became a member of the Cook county board of review.

He is a shrewd judge of human nature and is rated as a close student of politics. While he has been a Chicagoan since 1894 it was his suggestion to make the selection of Cleveland at the coming convention site, unanimous when he saw that the Chicago boosters were outnumbered.

Personal Health Service

By WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.

Noted Physician and Author

THE COLD DASH

These chilly mornings it is pleasant to lie abed and consider, again, whether one gains anything, after all, by taking a cold bath, plunging, sponge, dash or shower. Is there any virtue in subjecting one's skin to the shock of cold water at any time when warmth is a natural preference? Is the cold bath habit good for us, for no better reason than that which makes castor oil so good for young 'uns, namely, because they just naturally hate to take the horrid medicine?

Next to getting up early in the morning there is nothing so abhorrent to me as the thought of cold water on my warm skin in the early part of the day. I'd never make a good hero in a novel, for if I voluntarily took my bath at all in the morning, I'd have 'em nice and warm or fire the butter or valet or which ever appearance of a complete gentleman sets the bath ready in the morning, or better, I'd say: "Hawkins, you have the bath ready?" and when Hawkins replies "Yes, sir, very good, sir," I'd turn on the water and say: "Very well, then, Hawkins, you may bathe in it."

But notwithstanding my own antipathy for cold baths, candor compels me to say that some kind of early morning punishment akin to a cold bath is a healthful habit as well as valuable discipline for young folks in general, provided always that a patient growth of warmth and endurance comes as a reaction after the punishment.

Some folks say young a lot longer than others do; we may as well humor them in that regard. The effect of the natural cold bath as a means of preserving youth. There may be something in that argument. To my mind it is like thinking a man stays young because he hasn't lost any of his hair.

I believe in exposure to cold, wet, drafts, wind and all that sort of thing, as a healthful habit of living, so long as the exposure is not excessive, blueness, depression or discomfort from the experience. I think it would be unwise for one to expose himself to any of these conditions if he suffers from such discomfort from the experience. It is the same with regard to cold baths, or going in swimming.

The effect of dashing, sprinkling or spraying cool water upon the face, chest, chest or back of one in a faint is well known. It produces a gasp, which helps to revive the subject from the syncope. This gasp is brought about through what physiologists call reflex action; the cold water makes an impression on the terminals of the nerves which give sensation to the skin; an impulse is carried by these nerves to the breathing center of the medulla and to the vasomotor (circulation regulating) center close beside it; an impulse is sent out (reflected) along the vagus (tenth cranial or pneumogastric) nerves to the lungs, causing them to expand suddenly; other impulses are sent out along the vasomotor nerves causing contraction of the arterioles in the mucous membranes of the head, throat and chest. This latter effect accounts for the well established value of morning cold dashes of water over the chest and throat in various chronic troubles of the upper respiratory tract.

The morning cold dash, sponge, spray or shower bath is certainly a healthful habit for those who do or can enjoy it.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

Tuberculosis in the house. I am considering the purchase of a house whose former owner had tuberculosis. Would there be danger to my family? (Mrs. H. J.)

Answer.—No. Ordinary cleaning will make the house safe enough for anybody to live in.

Remover Puts It Mildly. I am 12 years old and go to school. My teacher says there are 78 kinds of eczema. My mother says she doesn't believe I will ever answer in the paper? (H. W.)

Answer.—There are at least 78 kinds of eczema and the conditions which people call eczema.

Sensitiveness Prevention. My doctor says I am sensitive. I am going across the Atlantic in two weeks. Can you advise how to prevent sensitiveness? (S. L.)

Answer.—I should be glad to direct you to a competent skin specialist by mail, but it is not my place to decide which method he may deem best for the removal of the mole.

Removal of Moles. Please give me the name of somebody who uses the cream method for the removal of moles. My daughter has a large one on the cheek. (W. J.)

Answer.—I should be glad to direct you to a competent skin specialist by mail, but it is not my place to decide which method he may deem best for the removal of the mole.

The lotion recommended for redness, roughness and chapping of the skin is made by slowly boiling and constantly stirring one-half ounce of grains of tricarath chips, half an ounce of glycerin, three drams of borax and a pint of water. A little of this thin jelly is applied to the skin two or three times a day.

Q. Who and where was the first cornerstone laid with ceremony? J. W. H.

A. The origin of ceremonial cornerstone laying is of the greatest antiquity and according to ancient historians sacrificial rites were practiced when laying a foundation of a building. Scripture references (authorized version) are Job 38:26; Zechariah 4:10; 1 Kings 8:13.

Q. What was ever a mint at Charlotte, N. C. J. S. H.

A. The assay office at Charlotte was established in 1837 and was closed on June 30, 1913, congress having failed to make provision for its support beyond that date. Its equipment was shipped to other institutions of the service. It was discontinued for the reason that the receipts of bullion at that office were insufficient to warrant its continuance. This office was originally established as a mint and was discontinued by the act approved March 3, 1835. The Charlotte office was designed to serve the gold producing districts of the southern Appalachian region, which were then and are now the principal territory in the United States.

From 1838 until 1861 the Charlotte office coined gold in denominations of half eagles, quarter eagles, and dollars. The value of the gold coined at Charlotte was re-established by act of congress dated March 19, 1867, and was maintained until the close of the fiscal year 1913.

Q. How many separate wires are there in the Atlantic cable? H. B.

A. There is only one copper conductor in each of the 18 Atlantic cables. For flexibility this consists of one center wire closely surrounded by 10 or 12 smaller wires, forming what is known as a solid strand. In some of the more recent cables the conductors are formed of two center wires surrounded by six copper ribbons. With regard to the mechanical protection for the conductor, the number and kind of the sheathing wires used vary with the depth of water and the nature of the sea bottom, but for the main cables 18 or 19 steel wires, each having a diameter of approximately one-eighth of an inch, are laid on spirally with a lay of about 11 inches.

LATEST MARKET REPORT

"TODAY'S MARKETS TODAY"

GRAIN

Chicago Review.
Chicago—Enlarged deliveries here on December contracts led to general selling and to lower prices for wheat today during the early dealings. Most of the wheat was sold at 10c below the previous day's closing. The market was quiet about prospects of any business developing from the German food situation. Quoting prices, which varied from unchanged figures to 1c up, May $1.07 1/2 to $1.08, and July $1.08 1/2 to $1.09, were followed by a general setback that exceeded a cent a bushel in some cases.

Subsequently further declines took place, weakness of values at Minneapolis, together with attention given here to the great extent of duty paid imports of wheat and flour into the United States from Canada this season, led to a further decline. The quotations were 1/2c down, May 72 1/2 to 73 1/2, the corn market continued to rise.

Unfavorable weather and prospective delay to crop movement failed to produce a recovery. The market was weak at 3 1/2c, net decline. May 72 1/2 to 73 1/2, the corn market continued to rise.

Provisions unchanged to 1/2c up. May 45 1/2 to 46 1/2, but later showed losses all around.

Special telegram to Tobacco from Hartford, Conn., dated Dec. 12, that the Connecticut Valley Tobacco association in denied an injunction to restrain Hill C. Long of South Windsor from selling his tobacco other than through the pool, in a decision handed down by Judge Mulholland of the superior court. The decision leaves Long and his wife free to sell the 1923 crop to anyone they may choose.

The pool has practically completed the organization of its grades and warehouse managers. The buyers chosen for the northern district are William Johnson of Melville, and Carl Thomas of Whitehall, for the southern district, Ward B. Wentworth and John Marks of Edgerton.

Warehouse managers at far designated are Charles E. Johnson, Conn. Valley; Oscar E. Swenson, Chasaburg; Andrew Daniels, Independence; Theodore Oswald, Chippewa; Ralph John McCulloch, Viroqua; Elmer Arthur, Janesville; Andrew J. Holtan, Stoughton; Tom Rocke, Edgerton; John B. Jackson, Deerfield. Managers are still to be chosen for Madison, Soldiers Grove and De Soto.

"Samples will be sorted and graded at the same places as last year in the tobacco district, which is a source of changes in redistricting, but in the northern district many changes have been made, redistricting to facilitate the work."

WISCONSIN TOBACCO MARKET.
Edgerton—The Wisconsin Tobacco Reporter Friday says:

The market is practically devoid of activity, but with the holiday season at hand the usual full is to be expected. Growers are stripping the portion they were able to take down, but no move toward deliveries is being made.

FINANCE
Wall Street Review.
New York—Further irregularity developed as trading progressed, but the gains continued to outnumber the losses. The market was strong, registered by General Asphalt, Atlantic Refining, Cuba Cane Sugar, and several others, including Computrol, Tabulating and Recording, which reached a new 1923 top. Some of the weak spots were National Lead, American Lead, and American Lead.

Stock prices fluctuated within a narrow and irregular area at the opening of today's stock market, with the main movement still upward. There were a few outstanding strong spots, such as General Asphalt, Atlantic Refining, Cuba Cane Sugar, and several others, including Computrol, Tabulating and Recording, which reached a new 1923 top.

FIND MUD-GEYSER IN VOLCANO PIT

Develops in Bottom of Crater of Katmai, on Alaska Peninsula.

Washington—The recent discovery that a huge mud geyser or mud volcano has developed during the past few years in the bottom of the enormous crater of Katmai in the peninsula of Alaska raises the question of the existence of similar geysers in other parts of the world.

"Large mud volcanoes such as that reported in Katmai's crater are relatively rare. The largest and most active hitherto known of what may be loosely called 'mud volcanoes' is in the state of Texas, near the city of San Antonio. It is a geyser the eruptions occur at more or less regular intervals, varying in this case from 12 to 20 minutes. Sometimes the water will merely bubble up slightly in the center of the lake, giving off steam. At other times it will erupt in a great column of mud and water which will be thrown 1,000 or more feet into the air. These eruptions are of a violent nature, and it is the subject of chemical reactions below the surface are a second source of the phenomena. One place where such a cause is thought to have produced mud volcanoes is in the delta of the Colorado river, just south of the California line where numbers of the little beehive-like mud mounds occur; and perhaps those of the Russian Crimea are of similar origin. Sometimes the little Etnas of mud are associated with petroleum and asphalt deposits as near Baku in Asia and the island of Trinidad off the northern shores of South America.

Costa Rica has greatest. "Large mud volcanoes such as that reported in Katmai's crater are relatively rare. "A MUSHY schedule makes a soft team. If you want a good soldier, test him with blood and fire. Same thing with football players. A grueling schedule puts iron in their system and makes them fighters." That is the way that Zuppke, coach of the Illinois football team, explains the habit of choosing the strongest teams to play. The Illinois schedule, which includes the Orange and Blue gridders of "fighting" Illinois, is a tough one. It is a test of the team's ability to win. The Suckers were every game. That means defeating four great eleven-Man teams. Chicago, Minnesota and Iowa. Next year, Illinois meets them again, and, in addition plays Nebraska, the team that defeated Notre Dame.

DURING the past week, the writer has received several interesting letters. One from E. O. Evans, superintendent of Evansville public schools, reads: "I am glad to read with interest your account of the Janesville-Evansville game, Saturday night, and I was impressed with the way you so likely to make a howl when we do not feel that we are being treated fairly, that it occurred to me it might be well to express my appreciation when we are treated right."

MANNING VAUGHAN, Milwaukee, calls attention of baseball fans to the manner in which the announcement was denied and confirmed that Mike Kelley had become owner of the Milwaukee Brewers. He points out another story of how Barney Burch, owner of the Omaha club, denied that Nick Cullip had been sold to the Yankees and a few hours later the sale was officially announced. Then Vaughan adds: "Wonder if the managers think they are fooling any one? Some day the newspapers will get tired of printing the announcements and then where will they head in? Echo answers: The advertising columns."

Entry of 420 Local State Pin Teams Paid So Far

"UNPAID PROMISES NEEDED" - TOUTON, MILWAUKEE OVER

Janesville has so far paid the entry fee for 420 teams in the Wisconsin state bowling tournament, which will be held on the Grebe & Newman alleys here from Jan. 18 to Feb. 18.

This payment was made Thursday afternoon by Charles Touton, chairman of the Janesville Tournament association.

The money for these squads is now in the hands of William P. Penske, Milwaukee, secretary of the state organization.

In addition to these figures, 150 teams were promised to the tournament by the Chevrolet Motors corporation and 50 teams by the Fisher Body company. The money for these teams is expected to be turned over to the tournament body shortly.

Require Every Promise.

"We are not done with the drive yet," says Charles Touton. "After the Christmas holidays are over, we shall go out again and bring in the stragglers. It is necessary that we get the money from every promise made to enter teams in order that we may put this tournament over and make a success of it. On account of the impossibility of getting the workers out to finish up the work and it has not been a good time to do so, we are pointing out another story of how Barney Burch, owner of the Omaha club, denied that Nick Cullip had been sold to the Yankees and a few hours later the sale was officially announced. Then Vaughan adds: "Wonder if the managers think they are fooling any one? Some day the newspapers will get tired of printing the announcements and then where will they head in? Echo answers: The advertising columns."

Entries for the tournament close on Jan. 6.

Secretary Penske notified Oscar N. Nelson, manager of the local chamber of commerce and president of the Wisconsin Bowling association, Thursday, that Milwaukee will go over.

"There are over 200 reservations at this time from Milwaukee and will come close to the 250 mark," he said. "The holiday will slow things up but we will have to put on a strong campaign the last few days so that we may reach the 1,100 team mark."

Enthusiasm for the Milwaukee tournament is high in Janesville. The bowlers are working hard to get the 420 teams. Practice is going on regularly in the city. The bowlers are making all sorts of plans for the big event. Practice is going on regularly in the city. The bowlers are making all sorts of plans for the big event. Practice is going on regularly in the city. The bowlers are making all sorts of plans for the big event.

But the bowlers are not the only ones taking a lively interest in the coming sporting event, the largest of its kind in the world. Business men of the city consider it the largest thing in convention lines that Janesville has ever been able to land.

Wherever people gather, the bowling tournament is bound to come up in conversation.

Bowling organizations in every city of the state are now centering their energies upon the meet at Janesville. While the work is going on here, these other cities are sending delegations to send big delegations to this city. The interest seems to be higher than at any time in past years.

Boxing Club Formed Here

Papers of incorporation for the Southern Wisconsin boxing association were filed at the register of deeds office in the county court house Friday with capitalization of $2,000. The club states in the papers it is to promote boxing and wrestling. The papers through the secretary of state's office at Madison, Thursday.

Incorporators are B. W. Heffernan, local baker; John D. Wenstrom, 258 South Jackson street; Joseph L. Prox, 327 Racine street; and Joseph P. Hoehleau, 258 South Jackson street.

While offices of the club are to be in Janesville, Mr. Prox said Friday evening that the test has been taken on the Wilson theater in Beloit where the bouts are to be held. He said efforts were made to procure a place here, but none could be found. Mr. Hoehleau, Prox states, will move to Beloit to conduct the business.

Application has been made to the Wisconsin boxing commission at Milwaukee for a charter and license. A meeting of the association is to be held Friday night in the offices of George S. Gelfs, attorney, Jackson building. Officers are to be elected at that time, it is said.

Polson and Palmer will start as forwards; Austin will be at center; Hallett and Knipp will play the guard post.

Coach Gibson of the Blues hopes to be able to send two different teams against Milton. That is, if Milton does not prove too strong. Milton A. L. Beats Watertown Quint

What About Milton?

Milton has played only against the Milton college team, in practice, so far. Most of last year's quintet has gone and Coach Poland is forced to depend largely upon new material. However, Milton's reputation of past years gives promise of a snappy battle. The Union coach was here last Saturday night to get first hand information of Janesville in action. During the past week, the Blues have been going through work that was aimed to develop their defensive. Which appeared a little ragged a week ago, "Cibby" has also been working to perfect an offensive that will penetrate any five man defense. The Blues got through Evansville's five-man defense in the last quarter, Babcock going to forward in place of Lanphere.

A VISION OF THE WORLD AT PEACE

COMMENT ON THE INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON
FOR DECEMBER 23, 1923.

READ ISAIAH 11.

WM. SOUTHERN, JR.

One of the most beautiful and wonderful passages to be found in Isaiah's writings is given up as a text for our Christmas lesson. The lesson text includes the 6th and 7th verses of Chapter 11, the first 10 verses of Chapter 60 and the 8th verse of the second Psalm. It is a vision of the world at peace, a vision of the Messiah promised in Jewish scripture. The old prophets were dreamers of dreams and seers of visions. A seer is a seer. They studied the history of the past and read the minds of men. I can see Isaiah alone on the mountain looking at the mysteries of the stars and trying to fathom the problems of life and to read the future. He sought God in the sky, in the mountain and in the valleys. And found God right where we find Him today, in our hearts, and all about us.

He found "tongues in trees, books in the running brooks, Sermons in stones and good in everything."

At the time the words of Isaiah were written, about 720 B. C., Assyria had captured Samaria and all Northern Israel and had defeated Egypt. Isaiah, who had been for nearly forty years counselor of Kings, himself of noble lineage, advised Hezekiah, the King of Judah, to submit to Assyria. He saw clearly that Judah as a nation would soon go the way of destruction. Already the Northern Kingdom had been scattered and we do not know to this day what became of the people. Then it was that Isaiah saw his great vision. His faith in God and the promises of God caused him to insist that, although at this time it seemed that the whole Hebrew world was at an end and that there was no hope, God would somehow, and great cathedrals proudly lift the cross toward heaven. The evolution of religion has marked marvelous growth since Isaiah's time. Isaiah, with his country prostrate, his own mind sure that the government would be wiped out, lifted his eyes to God and declared his faith in the promises of record and was enabled to vision the coming of a better day. Isaiah of course did not live to see his words come true, the measure of their time is still in the future, he himself was stuffed in a log and sawn asunder. It does seem that we of little faith with so much more of knowledge and so much more of the eternal purposes of God made known unto us, should not falter in our faith.

Christmas time is a renewed promise each year of the day when the vision of the world at peace so vividly pictured by the old prophet shall come true. Our celebration of Christmas is so covered over with rubbish of our own choosing that I am afraid we forget what it means. Sometimes I can almost sympathize with the rigid Puritans who refused to celebrate Christmas as a Christian holiday because they said it was no longer Christian. We acknowledge the birth of Christ in the date lines on our letters, in the calendars by which we measure our business and provide it every time we write it. The year of Our Lord 1923.

A pessimist can never enjoy Christmas. The man who believes that the world is growing worse all the time and that it will never be cured until the whole works are destroyed by fire and a new world set up, cannot enjoy Christmas. The man who cannot see beyond the black clouds of the horizon which seem to shut out all vision of hope, cannot enjoy Christmas.

Of course, he may enjoy the children and their gifts. He finds perhaps some pleasure in the smiles and the cheer of the little folk and in a good dinner Christmas day, but his mind is closed to the promise and he has not the faith to believe that God will do what he has said he will do. Our faith is often very small. Think of the faith of Isaiah. When everything he had held dear was gone, when his country was about to collapse, when his people were to be rooted out of their traditional homes, he still believed in the promises of God and sang his song of the great things which God had promised and which He would therefore certainly perform.

During the great war, when everything looked black for the Allies, when the legions of the Kaiser were within thirty miles of Paris, and when shells were falling about the devoted city, when it seemed that we would not be in time with our words of men and munitions, an old man said to me, "It is all right. The Germans will never win this war. God is in charge and I have no doubts, no fears. The advance will be stopped."

He had sons over there, one of them never came back, but his faith never wavered when things looked darkest, his belief never halted when the message came that his son had died, he stood, even as Isaiah stood, with a vision far beyond lesser men in his faith in God.

The progress of the world and of Christianity is slow. Not many years ago Kings ruled everywhere and we believed in the Divine Right of Kings and placed a crown upon the head of a man because of birth. Kings are not popular anymore. The crime of slavery was a black blot about civilization and Christianity. Now slavery is no more. Not many centuries ago might was right. We now take a different view. A few years ago the present conservative view of religion was called heresy. The heretic of today will be the conservative of tomorrow. Perhaps we may even do away with our doctrinal quarrels and the church lion and the Christian lamb lie down together in peace. We have already in the centuries which have been numbered in history since Isaiah's time, seen so much of his prophecy fulfilled that we can even see a faint glimpse of his wonderful vision of the World at Peace.

Patterned to Your Motor's Needs

THE "open market" of crude petroleum offers the refiner a hodge-podge of good, poor, fair, bad and middling quality—as variable and mixed up as the range of goods from which clothes could be cut.

Snatching into this grab-bag for whatever is cheapest, or nearest or easiest, and then topping this by deliberately applying cheapening and profit-forcing methods to the refining—that makes a combination standing as much chance to produce fit fuel for your motor as a sweat-shop does to meet your idea of suit values.

Wadham's True Gasoline

is tailored from a different stripe. There is "all wool and a yard wide" to be had in petroleum—first grade, genuinely gasoline bearing crude—and it is from the cream of this that Wadham's raw material is picked.

It is refined by selective non-cheapened methods—measured, fitted and patterned to your motor's needs by the simple straight run process that no modern science has learned to improve.

It has no shortcomings of power, nor blemishes of foul carbon and kerosene to be padded and pressed into a semblance of presentability or glossed over by the palaver of glibness of smooth sales talk.

HAS DEVICE TO HELP DEAF HEAR

Northwestern University Expert Sees Definite Success Soon.

Evansville, Ill.—Every indication points to success in developing a hand device which the totally deaf may carry and by which they may receive impressions of oral speech, Professor Robert H. Gault, head of the psychology department of Northwestern University, announced here today.

Professor Gault bases his announcement on the progress of a year of intensive work on the problem, and in making experiments in detecting words and sentences by tactual contact.

"Today it is safe to say that the human being can feel sound waves by touch, and can clearly translate such tactual impressions into words and sentences," said Prof. Gault.

Works With Students.

More than a year ago Prof. Gault started work with two students, George and John Crane, brothers of Fort Wayne, Ind., and succeeded in communicating with a metal tube various words and sentences which the Crane brothers detected with the hand only.

At that time one of the brothers sat in a room and spoke through the tube while the other, in an adjoining room, ears muffled and with hand over the receiving end of the tube, announced his interpretation of the sound vibrations. This year Prof. Gault has been utilizing an acoustical for amplifying vibrations at the sending end, while he employs a small receiving disk held in the hand of the others. Prof. Gault himself has been working upon the long vowels and upon several short sentences which a graduate student, S. Stevens, sitting in an adjoining building 60 feet away, repeats.

"Feel" Long Vowels.

Prof. Gault says the long vowels, a, e, i, o, and u, are more difficult to detect than are sentences. However, by long and patient practice, he says he has reached a point where he "feels" the long vowels correctly about 85 percent of the time. Upon sentences he does better, he explains because of the stressing of words. Tactual hearing of these four sentences has given the following results: Did Jack like teachers?—93 percent perfect; Henry did not begin—94 percent; He did like work—87 per cent; Say, did Jack accept?—100 percent.

Prof. Gault ascribes his 100 percent reading of the fourth sentence to the natural emphasis placed on the several words, and the natural pauses between the words.

Asked in what way the experiments would benefit humanity, the professor explained that the totally deaf would be benefited as they could learn the "tactual language" by constant practice, carry an ac-oustoon apparatus, and know what is being said merely by "feeling" sound.

CAN'T PAY STORAGE IN GOLD; LOSE GOODS

Berlin—Berlin warehouses are packed with furniture, much of which is being sold for storage charges. Foreigners and Germans alike have been compelled to shrink the size of their belongings because of housing regulations and rising living costs. Since Oct. 1, the storage charges on all furniture must be paid in gold money. Many persons cannot raise this money. The warehouses may sell furniture upon which the storage is not paid four weeks after it falls due.

FILM EMPHATIC GREATNESS

London—The wonders of the British empire around the world are to be filmed for the benefit of the people of the British Isles. Seventy men, scientists, camera-men, writers and sportsmen will make the long trip on a steam yacht.
